Memorial's Animal Club wraps up year with trip to Turtle Back Zoo

The Animal Club of the Woodland Park Memorial Middle School recently visited Turtle Back Zoo, celebrating the end of the 2017-2018 school year. It was one of the many activities they participated in throughout the year.

This year at the zoo, they took a special interest in the parakeet exhibit. The students fed the happy little birds by holding popsicle sticks coated with special seed. Some students actually had the birds land on their fingers to nibble on the tasty treats. It was as fun to feed the birds as it was to watch the smiles on the students' faces and listen to the birds chirping happily. They can't wait to return next year.

Seventh graders have opportunity to participate in author workshop

Seventh grade teachers Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Glenn recently arranged for storyteller, educator and coach Michael Trotta to visit with students in a special program. Thirty-five students participated in the voluntary workshop and agreed to meet with Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Glenn for three lunch periods leading up to the workshop in order to prepare. Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Glenn prepared lessons about storytelling strategies using lessons from the creators at Pixar.

Trotta informed the students that everyone has an inner genius and gave them tools to help them find theirs. He guided the students through an exercise of listening to stories with a focus on becoming aware of their own ideas and reactions to the story as it unfolded. The students had already viewed some of Mr. Trotta's art and writing online and had lots of questions. He discussed his creative process.

Students left the workshop with some obvious inspiration, noting, "I have so much to think about now," and, "He really pushed my thinking." Participants met at lunch one final time with Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Glenn to process the experience.
